To continue to stay ahead of the game and to do all you can to care for your residents, Dr. Fuller developed a robust Analytics service. It's called Illumination Analytics, the only health analytics service designed exclusively for assisted living communities.

Resident turnovers average 54% nationally, and declining resident health causes more than 90% of those resident turnovers. Illumination Analytics is a research service whose sole purpose is to optimize the management of residents' health and reduce high resident turnover rates.

The process is simple. Customers consult with Dr. Fuller who works within your community or corporation for a 1-year renewable contract. Dr. Fuller uses the analytics gathered to develop a series of Health Profiles.

These profiles compliment the STRAIGHT LINE program to reduce hospital re-admissions through knowledge of resident health issues, developing resident hospitalization risk, GAP analyses, designing Quality Improvement Initiatives, and much more.

This analysis provides data-driven evidence of the care excellence in your community and helps assure that all resident health issues are being optimally addressed.
